

West Harrisburg Drainage District

PRINCIPALS in the West Harrisburg Drainage District are now in the process of reviving the district so that something can be done to the West Harrisburg drainage ditch, which has filled with dirt, vegetation and debris since the last time it was cleaned and widened about eight or nine years ago. A Daily Register photographer Wednesday afternoon made the pictures shown above from various spots along the ditch. Upper left photo was made at the Lincoln street bridge and the upper right photo is looking south from Poplar street. The lower left is looking east from the bridge on the gravel road extending from North Webster and the lower right is looking toward Route 34 from the bridge on the Dorris Heights road. Tornadoes Hit Texas

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UP) — Twin tornadoes "bouncing up and down like yo-yos in slow motion" rumbled through Wichita Falls and a nearby village late Wednesday, killing one man and injuring a dozen.

"We're the luckiest people ever," said Steve Marchand, director of Civil Defense here. The two tornadoes rumbled along the Wichita River, taking 15 minutes to travel.

To Turn Off Water On Lincoln Street

Water will be turned off at 6 p. m. today on Lincoln street from Main to Granger streets while a fire hydrant is being repaired.

Superintendent Amos Doom estimated it would take three hours to complete the work. Water service will be resumed as soon as the hydrant repair has been accomplished.

Storm Rakes California; State Is Declared Disaster Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Hundreds of rail and highway travelers were stranded in the High Sierra today by a storm that raked California with torrential rains, hurricane-force winds and an impenetrable blanket of snow.

The storm — worst in a half century — was so severe that Gov. Goodwin Knight issued a proclamation making the whole state a disaster area.

Thousands of persons fled their homes in the San Francisco Bay area as rain-swollen creeks overflowed their banks.

The storm cost two lives. Richard Chase, 37, drowned when he slipped into swollen Ross Valley Creek in Marin County. In Lake Anderson near San Jose, William Vallotton, 23, former University of California football player, was feared drowned when his canoe tipped over in the wind.

The storm moved down the Central Valley and into Southern Caliverse their course and missed the downtown section, packed at the rush hour, by three blocks.

Marchand said only the tail of one of the tornadoes touched the ground, which might have accounted for the "comparatively light" destruction and injury in the town of 100,000.

Wylie Taylor, 50, a rancher at Dean Dale, a tiny village 12 miles east of Wichita Falls was dead. Taylor was apparently sitting in the living room of his home when it crumpled on top of him. Almost every building in Dean Dale was destroyed or damaged.

The twister that touched ground destroyed about 50 homes and buildings in Wichita Falls and damaged another 250. A. N. Anderson of the Department of Public Safety said, and left another 300 without power.

The tornado hit Wichita General Hospital and knocked out windows. Some patients panicked and had to be taken into the basement.

A tornado wrecked or damaged eight buildings around Bowie, southeast of Wichita Falls, but did not hit the town. A tornado near Ringgold damaged several farm buildings.

ifornia early today. As it did so, it left streams and rivers overflowing or nearly so, flooding thousands of acres of land.

At Stockton city officials braced themselves for a crisis.

Meanwhile, Southern Pacific crews worked in the High Sierra Nevada Mountains, 38 miles east of Colfax, Calif., to free a mail train from a snow slide.

The wreck halted the crack transcontinental streamliner, City of San Francisco, in a snowed near Norden with 97 passengers aboard.

SP said the passengers aboard the westbound train were "comfortable," with heat and plenty to eat. The train was stopped only three miles from the spot where it was snowed in for several days in 1951.

The slide also halted the westbound Overland at Sparks, Nev., and another westbound City of San Francisco at Ogden, Utah.

Low-Flying Pheasant Blamed on Auto Crash Fatal to Boy, 17

WORTHINGTON, Minn. (UP) — A low-flying pheasant was blamed for the death of Larry Post, 17, near here Wednesday.

Post, of Brewster, lost control of his car after a pheasant flapped through the window. The vehicle overturned three times. Post died in a Worthington hospital about an hour later.

List 6-Point Program for Traffic Safety

CHICAGO (UP) — A citizen leadership conference of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety ended a two-day meeting Wednesday with a priority program for combatting traffic deaths.

The six-point priority agenda was listed by Calvin Fentress Jr., Skokie, Ill., head of the business advisory panel of the President's committee and board chairman of Allstate Insurance Co.

Fentress said the priorities for traffic safety were:

—Enactment of stronger uniform laws with sufficient funds to conduct effective programs with trained personnel and adequate facilities.

—Broadening driver education through state financial aid so all eligible high school students get training; and establishing standards for private driving schools.

—Strengthened driver licensing including periodic re-examination.

—Improve enforcement to include the use of more patrolmen, uniform non-fix tickets, chemical tests for intoxication, radar and unmarked police cars.

—Upgrading traffic court procedures to mete out more appropriate and more stringent penalties.

—Periodic motor vehicle inspection.

Issue Two Oil Drilling Permits

Two oil well drilling permits for Saline county were issued last week at Springfield as follows:

Hardin Primary Races are Hot

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill. — Among the close races for county offices in Hardin county, three appear to be unusually exciting.

The one for county judge on the Republican ticket is especially. Porter Rose, undertaker, Cave-in-Rock, Junior Hosick (J. L.), undertaker, Rosiclare, and Plue Cochran, farmer, Elizabethtown, are candidates.

Cochran suffered a heart attack three weeks ago and hasn't been able to do any active campaigning.

Rose and Hosick are making a very active and hard fought race.

The other one is the Republican county clerk race. Luther Sheridan, Rosiclare, is running for reelection and Cecil Blakely, Cave-in-Rock, is his opponent. Both have held important offices in Hardin county's courthouse for several years, and this race will be close no doubt. Blakely is the present assessor and treasurer of Hardin county.

The third important race and hard fight is the one for county commissioner on the Republican ticket. Orval Troutman, Rosiclare, has served 12 previous years as county commissioner and is running against Claudia Joiner, farmer of Herod. Troutman is an employee of Alcoa Mining Company of Rosiclare.

On the Democrat ticket there seems to be no opposition for nominations and their troubles will not start until November.

Final Day Today For Harrisburg Clean-Up, Fix-Up

The final day of the Harrisburg Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up campaign got under way today and Street Superintendent William Owen Jr. said that considerable debris was hauled from the city yesterday.

Yesterday, he said, five trucks were used: Two city trucks and one each from the Barnes Lumber Co., Harrisburg Lumber Co., and Townes Chevrolet Co., who donated the use of trucks. In addition, he said, the Harrisburg Dairy, the American Legion and Barnes Lumber Co. donated a helper, and during the afternoon the General Telephone Co. of Illinois donated both a truck and helper. Remainder of the helpers during the day were from the city street department.

This morning, Mr. Owen said, the two city street department trucks and one from the Lloyd L. Parker Furniture Co. were in use picking up debris.

Defense Reorganization Bill Sent to Congress

Ike Expected to Veto Flood Control Projects

$1.5 Billion Measure Passed By Senate, 52-11

WASHINGTON (UP) — Some congressional Republicans said today President Eisenhower probably will veto a bill authorizing the spending of $1,578,812,000 on river, harbor and flood control projects.

The omnibus measure was approved by the Senate, 52-11, Wednesday night and sent to the White House. It cleared the House in the same compromise form Monday.

The President vetoed similar legislation in 1956 on grounds that it contained many projects not approved by administration agencies.

It was understood that Budget Bureau spokesmen pointed out to Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders at Tuesday's weekly legislative conference that the same objections applied to this bill.

Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) said the executive agencies already have approved all but about 6 percent of the projects in the new omnibus bill. Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla.) said he understood all 19 projects added to the original Senate-passed bill by the compromise have been approved by the Army Engineers.

However, Sen. Norris Cotton (R-N.H.) told the Senate the bill was a "good, old fashioned well-known pork barrel" and that he hoped it would be vetoed. He said it was not an anti-recession measure and that there already was a backlog of authorized public works projects on which eight billion dollars could be spent.

Mrs. Ella Akins, 78, Dies Near Galatia; Rites Saturday

Mrs. Ella Akins, 78, died at the home of her son, J. W. Akins, who lives south of Galatia, at 4 p. m. Wednesday. The body is at the Courtney funeral home and will be removed to the son's home early this afternoon to lie in state there until the funeral Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Galatia Baptist church.

The services will be conducted by the Rev. Hyman Cantrell of El Dorado, assisted by the Rev. James Franko, pastor of the Galatia Baptist church. Interment will be at the Webber Camp Grounds at Galatia.

Mrs. Akins had requested that no flowers be sent.

Surviving Mrs. Akins are her children, Joe Akins, Galatia, Mrs. Evelyn Ginger, Thompsonville, Mrs. Vida Staffey, Whiting, Ind., J. W. Akins, Galatia, Alice Duffy, Gary, Ind., and Mitch Akins, Gary. Also surviving her are three brothers, Joe Bishop, West Frankfort, Rex Bishop, Phoenix, Ariz., Jack Bishop, Iowa; one sister, Mrs. Minnie Yoder, Des Moines, Iowa; ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Southern Illinois Missionary Societies To Meet Saturday at General Baptist

The annual one day convention of Missionary Societies of Southern Illinois will meet Saturday, April 5, at the First General Baptist church on Sloan street in Harrisburg. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m.

There are 14 societies in this convention and each one will be represented. It is expected that there will be some returned missionaries present as well as visitors from Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois.

Rev. Mervil Clark from Clay, Ky., will be the featured speaker in the afternoon and Miss Phyllis Graham, a student at Oakland City College in Indiana, will entertain with special music throughout the day. Officers for the convention

Police Provide Protection for Family Of Professor Threatened by Extortion

CHICAGO (UP) — Police are providing around-the-clock protection for the family of a Roosevelt University professor threatened in an extortion plot.

The extortionist has twice contacted Frank Undermyer, 42, of the political science department — once with a note scrawled on a concert program, later with a telephone call. Police disclosed Wednesday the extortionist failed to fall into two traps set for him.

Undermyer's grandfather, Samuel, was a wealthy New York lawyer who died in 1940. His father, Irwin, is a retired justice of the New York Supreme Court.

Undermyer told authorities he found a $5,000 extortion note in the faculty mailbox Monday morning. "I know your first inclination will be to throw this away," the note said. "Your second will be to call police. You had better forget and get $3,000 in old 10-dollar bills and $2,000 in old five-dollar bills. Place them in an old envelope and wait at the Wabash Avenue entrance at 7 p. m. tonight."

The note was written on a concert program from Orchestra Hall which is just two blocks away from Roosevelt University. The note warned Undermyer his daughters, Alice, 8, and Amy, 6, both of whom take music lessons at the university, might come to "harm."

Undermyer, who formerly taught at Cornell University, lives in the fashionable suburb of Deerfield with his wife, Ethel, his daughters, and a son, Frank, 4. No mention of the little boy was made in the extortion note, police said.

Highway Compromise Bill Passed By House By 299 to 28 Vote

Anti-Billboard Provision Included; See Senate Approval

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House today passed a compromise $5,500,000 highway bill containing a controversial anti-billboard provision.

House passage came on a roll call vote of 299-28.

Opposition to the bill collapsed after members rejected, 222-109, a motion to send the measure back to a House-Senate conference committee for further study.

The lop-sided vote on this crucial test came as a surprise because Democratic and Republican leaders had passed the word that they were not pleased with the bill.

They had expected the bill to be recommended.

House passage sent the compromise bill back to the Senate where it was expected to win fast approval, clearing the way for members to depart for a 10-day Easter recess.

House Democratic leaders who had been pushing for fast action on the measure, lost their ardor for it when Senate-House negotiators unexpectedly inserted the controversial anti-billboard provision.

Republican leaders opposed the measure's big spending features. But rank-and-file members of the House—many of them with their bags already packed—apparently decided it wouldn't look good to the voters back home to block passage of the measure just before starting their Easter vacation.

The motion to send the measure back to conference was offered by Rep. J. Harry McGregor (R-Ohio), one of the five House conferees who had worked out the compromise bill with the Senate.

McGregor complained that the compromise went far beyond the original House measure. Among other things, he denounced the anti-billboard provision as an attempt to "put out of business a legitimate business."

But Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md.), chairman of the House conferee group, and Rep. John A. Biatnik (D-Minn.), another member of the group, appealed for approval of the embattled measure.

The controversial section would give states an extra 12 of 1 percent in federal funds if they agreed to accept federal standards for restricting billboards on the new interstate highway system. The standards will be set later by the secretary of commerce.

Where Jesus Wept, Prayed

Sacred Olive Grove of Gethsemane Little Scarred by Time, Change

By LARRY COLLINS
United Press Staff Correspondent

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (UP) — Time steps back 2,000 years in the tiny olive grove of Gethsemane where Jesus Christ came to weep and pray the night before he died.

Of all the sacred spots in the Holy Land, the little garden is least scarred by time and change. It is like the garret of an artist who walked out locking his door one night and never came back.

The sights and sounds of the 20th Century have been able to get no closer to Gethsemane than the Amman-Jerusalem road that runs 100 yards below its western flank.

There, the honk of a passing taxi or muffled motor of an Arab Legion truck heading for the Israeli border sound the call of today's unhappy Holy Land.

But inside the garden, the same olive trees that looked on Christ's hour of agony squat gnarled and fat in the warm spring sun.

A new crop of olives bud from their upper branches, their silver green leaves and pea-like pods rustling and thudding as the breeze pushes through the trees.

The tree under which Christ is supposed to have prayed sits in the southwestern corner of the almost symmetrical eight-tree garden.

Its twisting and flaking brown trunk measures almost 15 feet around — but it stands only slightly higher than a man's head.

Paths of sun-bleached white pebbles installed by the Franciscans who care for the garden criss-cross its scrubby coat of grass.

Along their borders, yellow and purple pansies and orange marigolds—also set out by the Franciscans—grow.

Tonight, to a garden packed with pilgrims, the brown-robed Franciscans will re-enact the Holy Thursday night when Christ enjoined His apostles to "watch one hour with me."

Gives McElroy Full Control of Military, Money

Eisenhower Plan Seeks Unification Of Armed Services

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower sent to Congress today a sweeping defense reorganization plan that would give the defense secretary full control over all military operations and defense money.

The President's plan was aimed at greater unification of the armed services to prepare them better for fighting a modern war, he said.

"Separate ground, sea and air warfare is gone forever," the President said in a 7,000-word message.

"Strategic and tactical planning must be completely unified, combat forces organized into unified commands, each equipped with the most efficient weapons systems that science can develop, singly-led and prepared to fight as one, regardless of service."

Present Setup "Cumbersome"

The President asked Congress to approve changes in the law which would give Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy undisputed authority to carry out these responsibilities.

Orders to unified military field commands would go directly from the President, as commander-in-chief, and the defense secretary. The secretaries and chiefs of the individual services would be bypassed in operational control of the nation's armed forces.

The President said the present chain of command through the individual services was "cumbersome and unreliable in time of peace and not useable in time of war."

He asked for repeal of all provisions of the present defense law which "vest responsibility for military operations in any official other than the secretary of defense."

He also asked for greater authority for the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Chiefs to Advise Secretary

The President did not, however, ask for elimination of the joint chiefs system and substitution of a general staff system with only one chief. He did recommend that the chairman of the joint chiefs be given authority to assign tasks to the present joint staff.

He recommended that the service members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff — the chiefs of Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines — be relieved of the major part of their administrative duties as to their individual services.

The President said that he had ordered that the Joint Chiefs of Staff "advise and assist the secretary of defense in respect to their duties and not to perform any of their duties independently of the secretary's direction."

Instead of giving the present non-voting chairman a vote on joint chiefs' decisions, as some had urged, the President would take away the vote the service chief members now have under law. He said that, as practical matter, the joint chiefs never voted anyway.

UAW Negotiations

Editorial—BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
As important talks get under way between the major motor-makers and the United Auto Workers, both sides must be conscious of the burden upon them to negotiate wisely not only in their own interest but in the country's.

The bargaining tables at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler are shadowed by the recession. To a considerable extent, it is an automobile recession.

Industry output is well below even 1937's quite moderate showing. Thousands of auto workers are idle. The sharp decline in steel production reflects above all the shrunken state of the car market.

Despite cutbacks and layoffs in this field, car inventories stand at a high 900,000. The public just isn't buying in the big way to support the industry at busy levels.

This is a situation that must give both management and UAW President Walter Reuther serious pause.

Considerable evidence exists that some customers already have been priced out of the automobile market. Others are turning to cheaper foreign cars, whose sales have zoomed.

There are indications that a respite from installment payments is sought by many who may have only recently emerged from a two or three-year siege of payments.

In the circumstances, union chances of winning pay boosts, faster and longer supplemental unemployment benefits, and the profit-sharing plan Reuther seeks would seem to be fairly slim.

Past experience suggests that any heavy extra cost would be passed on to the consumers through higher prices. Few would imagine this as a likely way in which to enlarge a shrinking market.

Even merely renewing such an agreement as the present GM contract, as that firm proposes, would not amount to holding the line. For that pact calls for automatic wage increases of two and a half per cent.

Certainly the UAW isn't likely to settle for anything less than what it now has. But to press for much more could mean only pro-

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: U. S. let Russia get credit for what we were about to propose in 1956; let world peace get snarled up in domestic politics; he reversed himself on H-test ban after Stevenson urged banning tests.

WASHINGTON.—U. S. experts on public opinion admit privately that Moscow scored the No. 1 propaganda victory of the year with the announcement of a unilateral ban of H-bomb tests. It almost equals the No. 1 victory of last year—launching the sputnik.

The Moscow announcement, coming on top of the steady drumbeat of Bulgarian notes urging a summit conference and the banning of missile bases in Europe, more than ever has pictured the United States as a wormonger; pictured Russia as the disciple of peace.

The real inside story of how badly the United States muffed the ball on banning H-bomb tests is known only to a few people. As early as Sept. 11, 1956, President Eisenhower and the National Security Council had decided to propose more or less what Moscow proposed this week—a ban on H-bomb tests.

What actually happened at the Sept. 11, 1956 meeting was that Secretary of State Dulles urged a moratorium on the nuclear tests, pointing out that it would win friends for us abroad, would give us the diplomatic initiative, would help convince the world that we noting the idleness of even more of its own members.

The negotiations in Detroit are of great concern to us all. Let the men around the bargaining tables remember that constantly as they hammer out the new contracts.

are more peace-loving than Moscow.

Harold Stassen immediately agreed with Dulles. Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, did not. They warned that Russia might violate any agreement, would test small atomic weapons. They admitted we could detect all large explosions.

In the final voting, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey concurred with Dulles, and the President finally did, too. As is customary in National Security Council meetings, the decision was made unanimously. Though final details were to be worked out later, the tentative plan was to ask Russia to join in suspending H-bomb tests for one year as a "peace agreement."

This was to be coupled with a "moral agreement" to outlaw the intercontinental ballistic missile in the same manner poison gas has been outlawed.

IKE REVERSES IKE

Approximately one week later, Ike's political advisers warned that Adlai Stevenson had made speeches as early as April, 1956, proposing the end of H-bomb tests, and that he had made another full-dress proposal in early September. The advisers urged that it would be a political mistake to play into Stevenson's hands by going ahead with the security council's decision of September 11.

Eisenhower then reversed himself. On September 19 he came out with a vigorous statement attacking Stevenson's H-bomb proposal as "a theatrical gesture."

In speech after speech following this, Eisenhower attacked the Stevenson proposal as political grandstanding. He made it clear he didn't consider Stevenson qualified to discuss atomic energy.

On October 26, the President stormed into the National Security Council meeting and angrily lectured them about leaks. He said he had heard that the September 11 decision regarding H-bomb tests had become known to people outside the council, and as a result he was ordering a full investigation.

On October 29, this column queried the White House as to whether the security council had made a decision and then reversed itself. The reply was "no comment." A day or two later, four Democratic senators made the same inquiry and got a categorical denial.

HEALTH SURVEY SUSPENDED

Meanwhile, the White House was so embarrassed over Stevenson's proposal to ban nuclear tests that it even played politics with the Public Health Service's survey of radioactivity. Suddenly on Sept. 26, 1956 and without explanation, the survey was canceled.

Ike's blast at Stevenson's proposal had been made on September 19. One week later, Assistant Surgeon General Otis L. Anderson wrote state health officials:

"Field sampling operations in connection with radiation surveillance network will terminate at the close of business Thursday, September 27, 1956."

Twenty-four hours is an extremely abrupt cancellation notice. Many state officials didn't receive the notice before September 27. Anderson was obviously in a hurry. The date of October 1 was scratched out and September 26 typed in. The termination date of September 27 was also typed in.

Previous surveys showed increases of radioactivity as high as 15 to 25 times normal by some monitoring stations. An increase of 10 times normal, according to statements by the Atomic Energy Commission, was considered the alarm point.

Stevenson had proposed the end of H-bomb tests because, he said, the air was becoming dangerously contaminated with radioactive fallout. This was denied by Atomic Energy Chairman Strauss. The surveys made by Public Health Service substantiated Stevenson, contradicted Strauss. The surveys were canceled.

Prank Backfires

CLIFTON SPRINGS, N. Y. — (UP) — Police arrested Robert Quillet, 17, and Richard Ostrander, 16, after motorists jammed on their brakes to avoid a strand of "wire" strung across Main St.

Both boys were given suspended jail sentences and $10 fines after officers disclosed the strand was black yarn.

Methodist Challenger S. S. Class Holds Business and Social Meeting
The Challenger class of the First Methodist church held its regular monthly social meeting in the church March 27. Following a potluck dinner the business meeting was presided over by Arthur Hill. Flower fund, distress and gift funds were considered and a special fund was set aside for needed building improvements.

Committee reports revealed the following: Zelda Oglesby, teacher; Jane Wickham, substitute; couples class preferred above lecture type lesson and the class does not feel that it is too large to function properly.

Other matters discussed were needed class rooms, an organ fund, an improved parking area, paint, scholarship fund, floor covering for basement and visitation groups. The group showed a preference for a discussion type prayer services with families present.

Those attending with their families were: Jesse Higgins, Arthur Hill, Paul Lewis, Billy Oglesby, Lloyd Edwards, James Richey, Rev. Peter Kunnen, John Boyett and Richard Hensley.

Communion services will be held in the Methodist church at 7 p. m. Good Friday and the Easter union sunrise services will be held Easter morning with coffee and doughnuts following the services.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans Report Increased Payments in '57

A total of $66,260,388 was provided in hospital care benefits for members during 1957, according to an announcement by M. A. Sparlin, branch manager of the Carbondale office of the Blue Cross Plan of Hospital Service Corporation. This represents an increase in benefits of more than $8,000,000 over the previous year. It brings total benefits provided by this Blue Cross Plan since it was first established 20 years ago to $408,340,962.

This Blue Cross Plan also added 199,784 new members during the year, bringing total membership to 2,594,331 on December 31, 1957.

"One of the important trends of the past year has been the payment of an increasing number of very large hospital bills," Sparlin said. "For example, Blue Cross paid the highest bill in its history when it provided hospital benefits totaling $13,246.10 for Miss Barbara Sarber, a direct-payment cooperative member who was in the hospital for 55 days with a serious infection of the lining of the heart, which in the past has nearly always been fatal. Of this amount, over $12,000 was for drugs, and Miss Sarber had to pay the hospital only $489.50, which included the co-operative payment and the difference in cost of a private room. "During the year," Sparlin added, "a total of 5,038 Blue Cross members each received hospital benefits of more than $1,000. In December alone, a total of 492 cases were paid, ranging from $1,000 to $5,632. Of these 46 were between $2,000 and $3,000, while 12 Blue Cross members received hospital care benefits of over $3,000."

The Blue Shield Plan of Illinois Medical Service, which is offered as a companion plan to this Blue Cross Plan, provided benefits in 1957 totaling $14,795,188 toward doctors' bills for 336,673 services to members. This plan, which was founded in 1947, 10 years after this Blue Cross Plan, also added 231,898 members, bringing total membership in the plan to 1,771,331 on December 31, 1957. Total benefits of $61,855,406 have been provided by this Blue Shield Plan since it was founded.

Both of these Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans have enjoyed phenomenal growth during the last few years and are part of the national Blue Cross and Blue Shield movement. This Blue Cross Plan, which serves Chicago and a large part of Illinois, is one of 85 Blue Cross Plans now serving the United States and Canada with over 55 million members. There also are now 73 Blue Shield Medical-Surgical Plans, to which over 37 million people belong.

Area Nurses Donate Nursing Textbooks for CARE

This spring the Registered Nurses of the 14th District Nurses Association will join a "Hand Across the Seas" education effort by donating their own nursing textbooks for distribution to student nurses of other lands.

This project will be part of the regular April meeting of the District Nurses when they gather in Harrisburg on April 13 at the Kurto Country club. Dr. Warren Tuttle of the Harrisburg Medical Foundation will be the principal speaker of the Nurses' luncheon meeting. Dr. Tuttle will discuss, "The Nursing program of the City of Harrisburg," and will emphasize the problems and gains of the Practical Nurse training program carried on in Harrisburg under the supervision of the Harrisburg ownership high school.

All nurses of the 16 southern-most Illinois counties are urged to attend the Harrisburg meeting which will also feature a discussion of insurance programs of special interest to Registered Nurses.

Cunningham-Ashburn Trade Possibility Seen by Cardinals and Phillies

By United Press
At least one and possibly two major deals appeared ready to go today as both the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox sought additional strength to bolster their pennant ambitions.

The Cardinals conferred Wednesday with General Manager Roy Hamey of the Philadelphia Phillies, raising a possibility that a swap involving Richie Ashburn and Joe Cunningham may be near. The Cardinals need a center-fielder in Ashburn's proven quality while the Phillies are desperate to acquire a first baseman of Cunningham's ability.

President Chuck Comiskey of the White Sox admitted, meanwhile, that he had talked trade with Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians. The White Sox are believed to be bidding for a right-handed hitting outfielder—possibly Rocky Colavito—and have pitching and lefty outfield strength to spare.

There were two relatively minor deals completed. The Cardinals traded outfielder Jim King to the San Francisco Giants for catcher Ray Katt and the Detroit Tigers purchased Stan Palys, who hit .339 for Nashville in the Southern Association last season, from the Cincinnati Redlegs.

On the exhibition circuit, first baseman Bill Skowron continued to supply the big noise as he smashed

Special Services At Stonefort Baptist Church

Special worship services will be held at the Baptist church in Stonefort, starting at 7:30 p. m. Friday, it has been announced by the pastor, Rev. George Smith.

Two Southern Illinois University students will conduct the services Friday 7:30 p. m., Saturday 7:30 p. m., Easter Sunrise service Sunday at 8:30 a. m. and also the regular Sunday morning and Sunday evening services.

The preaching will be by Bob Michel of Galesville, a ministerial student, and the song leader will be David Capps of Herrin.

A revival will start at the Stonefort Baptist church Monday, with Rev. W. D. Berry the evangelist. Revival services will continue thru Friday, April 18.

Rev. Berry has been pastor of the First Baptist church of Christon for 22 years.

Rev. Smith invites the public to attend any or all of the services at the Baptist church in Stonefort.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

"Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation," said Jesus to His disciples on that last Thursday of His life on earth. He went on to say "the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak."

This warning has run through the centuries. Many have listened. Multitudes have desired to avoid temptation, but many have given in to the fleshly desires of the world. Too many people forget the first few words of the request. They do not "watch and pray" for deliverance from temptation.

We cannot avoid temptation by our own will power. We must have God's help. We must steer clear of sin by turning from the very preliminary of sin.

Let us carry this message with us not only through Maundy Thursday but through all the days of our lives.

Beckman, Wright Collide
In Republican Primary
Tuesday in State Race

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—State Rep. Louis E. Beckman, the "organization" choice, and Warren E. Wright, running again as a maverick against the Gov. Stratton "team," collide Tuesday for the Republican nomination for state treasurer in the only major statewide race in the Illinois primary. Adding incentive to the state treasurer race this year is the fact that the man elected in November will serve the first four-year term in the history of the office. A 1954 constitutional amendment lengthened the term from two years.

In the only other statewide race, School Supt. Gerald W. Smith of Elmwood Park has only negligible opposition from Chicagoan Lar Daly for the Republican nomination for superintendent of public instruction.

Daly has been a candidate for governor and U. S. senator in the past but never has drawn more than a handful of votes.

Incumbents Not Running
Cook County Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman and Madison County School Supt. George T. Wilkins are unopposed for the Democratic nominations for state treasurer and superintendent of public instruction respectively.

Neither incumbent of the two state offices up for election this year is a candidate. State Treasurer Elmer Hoffman, barred by the constitution from succeeding himself, is a candidate for Congress in the 14th District and Vernon Nickell has declared himself out of the race for superintendent of public instruction for reasons of health.

Beckman nor Wright has tried to stir up any great public excitement over their race. Beckman's speeches have dwelt principally on his qualifications for the post resulting from his experience in the banking business and in the Legislature.

Wright has taken a few digs at the "bosses" for allegedly trying to dictate the choice of Beckman. In the state Capitol recently Wright approached Stratton and told him "I'm going to beat your man, Bill."

But Beckman and Wright both have concentrated on personal and organization contacts.

Both Army Veterans
The race offers several contrasts. First of all, Stratton, though he has made no public endorsement, is backing Beckman for the nomination. Wright, who took a thumping defeat from Stratton in a bid for the GOP nomination for governor two years ago, is trying again to upset the governor's leadership of the party.

Also, at 44 Beckman is making his first bid for a statewide office after four terms in the Legislature.

Wright, who celebrated his 65th birthday March 26, is a veteran campaigner who twice before has been state treasurer, in 1941-43 and 1955-57.

Beckman, an Army veteran of the South Pacific in World War II, is in the real estate, farming and insurance businesses in Kankakee. He is the son of the late State Sen. Louis E. Beckman. He and his wife, Elizabeth, have two children.

Wright, an Army veteran of both world wars, has been in the hardware, automobile and banking businesses and now has oil interests in southern Illinois. He is a native of Morgan County but now makes his home in Park Ridge.

Backgrounds of Candidates

Smith, 52, a graduate of Knox College with a master's degree from the University of Iowa, has been superintendent of schools at Elmwood Park since 1953. Prior to that he was high school principal at Media, Alexis and Moline, and served in the Air Transport Command in World War II.

Lohman, 48, a sociologist-criminologist, has been a teacher at the University of Chicago and a labor arbitrator. He also was chairman of the state Parole Board under Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson. He was elected sheriff of Cook County in 1954 in his first try for public office.

Wilkins, 53, a graduate of Southern Illinois University, is serving his third term as Madison County schools superintendent. Before moving into that post he served from 1943-47 as superintendent of Madison, Ill., city schools. He now resides at Edwardsville.

Louis Fisher, 45, Chicago, is running as a write-in candidate for the Socialist Labor Party's nomination for state treasurer. He was the only candidate chosen by the party to run in the primary this year.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—(UP)—Missouri Conservation Commission agent Mel Lee said he recently accosted an angler at Bennett Springs State Park who had three trout over the limit. The fisherman replied: "But I thought you could catch the limit, plus a few more for supper." Lee disagreed—and so did the court.

GETTYSBURG, S. D.—(UP)—Fire destroyed Dan Clark's farm home near here for the second time in 27 years. Both houses were on the same site.

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Illinois' youngest justice of the peace, pretty Pat Dwyer, will go to New York next week to summon top business executives to inspect industrial sites in this state.

Miss Dwyer, a Southern Illinois University law student, will attend the National Industrial Development Exposition in the Coliseum April 7-11.

The State of Illinois and a number of towns and counties working on community development programs with the aid of SIU will have exhibits at the NIDE.

The 21-year-old J. P. will hand out "summonses" to Exposition guests, many of whom represent companies considering new plant locations. They will be "charged" with failure to give due consideration to Southern Illinois' industrial advantages.

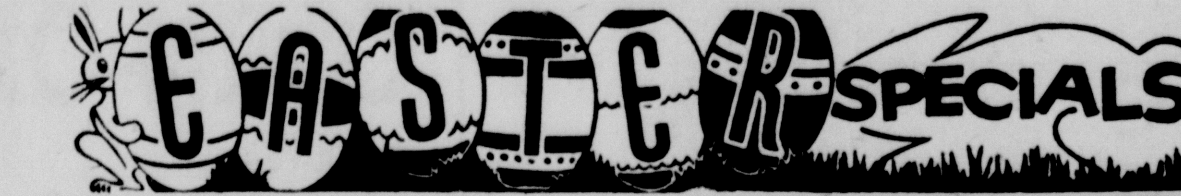

Miss Dwyer recently was featured on CBS-TV's To Tell The Truth program.

Personnel of SIU's department of community development will be in charge of the Southern Illinois exhibits. Industrial Engineers Mason Parker of Central Illinois Public Service Co. and Charles W. McCaula of Illinois Power Co. also will be available to answer questions about industrial possibilities in the area.

A large exhibit will show the advantages of Carlyle, Coudon, Coulterville, Edwardsville, Flora, Mt. Vernon, Mounds, Steeleville, West Frankfort, Gallatin county, Hardin county, Pope county and Saline county. East St. Louis will have a separate display. Costs were pro-rated among the communities according to population.

The Illinois Division of Industrial Planning and Development will also have a 10-foot display.

Oklahoma is the only state in the union to have memorials honoring both the Confederacy and the Union.

No More U. S. Arms for Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) said Wednesday night the State Department has assured him the Cuban government will get no more U. S. arms until conditions in that country return to normal. Porter told the United Press that department officials advise him an embargo has been placed on shipments of military aid to the government of President Fulgencio Batista.

He said he was told a public announcement would precede any future military shipments to the revolt-torn Caribbean island.

Federal Agents Finally Catch Ralph Capone

CHICAGO (AP) — A six-year search ended Wednesday night when federal agents caught up with Ralph J. (Bottles) Capone and handed him a civil summons aimed at recovery of $200,000 in taxes and interest.

The 60-year-old Capone, brother of the late Al Capone, received the summons after two cars carrying FBI and Treasury agents stopped his auto. The agents shoved the paper into Capone's hand. Capone operates a hotel and grill at Mercer, Wis.

The summons notified Capone that he faces a civil suit to recover $87,217 in unpaid taxes for 1926 through 1928. The total was swelled to $200,000 by the addition of penalties and 6 per cent interest charges.

The suit was filed Dec. 30, 1952, a day before the statute of limitations expired.

During the past six years federal agents have sought unsuccessfully to serve the paper on Capone within the northern Illinois jurisdiction. Nine summonses were out in the pockets of agents and 25 persons worked at various times on the case.

On Feb. 12, Capone paid $446, the final installment on his $23,555 tax bill for unpaid income taxes for 1922 through 1924.

All of the government's claims are based on Capone's conviction in 1930 for income tax evasion from 1922 through 1928, for which he served three years in prison and paid a $10,000 fine.

Governor Predicts 1,700,000 to Vote In Primary

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The total vote in the Illinois primary election Tuesday will be about 1,700,000, Gov. Stratton predicted today. The governor's estimate would be slightly above the total vote of 1,695,000 recorded in the primary in 1954, the last non-presidential election year.

Two Killed in Auto Crash Near Effingham

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — Two Watson men were killed Wednesday when their auto left Ill. 33, struck a bridge abutment and overturned near here.

The dead were identified by state police as Jesse Jacobs, 51, driver of the car, and Forrest R. Martin, 55, a passenger.

PRESS CONFERENCE—President Eisenhower, at a press conference in Washington, told newsmen that Moscow's unilateral halt in nuclear tests is a gimmick which should not be taken seriously. The President is shown here as he emphasized a point. (NEA Telephoto)

Rome in Mourning In Memory of Ordeal of Christ

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Eternal City draped itself in mourning today in memory of the ordeal of Jesus Christ.

The Roman Catholic ritual of Maundy Thursday ushered in Christendom's most solemn season, commemorating the suffering, death and resurrection of Christ some 1,900 years ago.

Priests prepared to strip altars of their ornaments and drape them in mourning immediately after today's commemoration of Christ's establishment of the Holy Eucharist at his last supper.

The Holy Week mourning will reach its peak Friday afternoon at the time Christ died on the cross. It will end at midnight Saturday when the big bell of St. Peter's Basilica rings out to announce that "Christ has risen from the dead."

Eisenhowers to Spend Easter Weekend At Gettysburg Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower will spend the Easter weekend at their Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The White House said the President will motor to the farm this afternoon or Friday morning. Mrs. Eisenhower drove there Wednesday.

They will return to the White House late Sunday or Monday morning.

Dr. Webb Attends Dental Meeting

Dr. L. I. Webb attended the meeting of the Gilbert Watkins Dental Research Group, which met in the Benwood hotel in Effingham April 2. He participated in a panel discussion on "how you can be of greater dental service in your community during the shortage of dentists."

Six dentists from different parts of Illinois and two from the St. Louis area entered the discussion. Professor Edward S. Gordon of Roosevelt College, Skokie, Illinois, was the leader of the panel.

Sandra Stratton to Vote First Time

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Gov. Stratton's daughter Sandra will vote for the first time in the Illinois primary Tuesday.

The governor's office reported Wednesday that Sandra plans to vote at Morris. Stratton's family home. Gov. and Mrs. Stratton also will vote there.

Former Constable Sentenced for Two Armed Robberies

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Warren Gumbrell, 29, a former constable, was sentenced Wednesday to from four to seven years in prison after he pleaded guilty to two armed robberies of a loan company here.

Circuit Judge Randall Quindry imposed the sentences on Gumbrell, a store operator at Mount Carmel.

UAW Rejects American Motors Contract Proposal

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers hung an "unacceptable" sign today on an American Motors Corp. proposal that the union extend its present contract with the auto firm for two years and in some cases even reduce AMC's labor costs.

The UAW also announced it would open bargaining with AMC April 15.

The AMC demands, announced Wednesday at a press conference by Vice President-industrial relations Edward L. Cushman, were based on the company's contention its labor costs were still above those of its competitors—both in autos and appliances.

The AMC disclosure marked a "first" in union-management relations in the auto industry. In the past the union has publicized its contract demands in advance of negotiations while the companies have remained silent.

Peron's Ex-Girl Friend to Wed

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Nelly Rivas, ex-President Juan D. Peron's former teen-age girl friend, will marry a young Argentine book-keeper Sunday, friends of her family said today.

They said the prospective bridegroom, whom they identified only as "Carlos," works for one of the larger embassies here.

Nelly, who is now 19, became Peron's favorite after the death of his wife, Eva. She will be a relatively wealthy bride because the courts allowed her to keep the $7,500 worth of jewels lavished on her by the deposed dictator.

Run by Fire Department

The fire department made a run to Marsh street in the extreme west part of Harrisburg at 6:45 p. m. yesterday, called by a person who lived nearby because a field was on fire.

Upon arrival the fire department members were told by a man that he was burning off the field, that he hadn't called and didn't need the fire department.

Parents Abandon Five Children

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Five children abandoned by their parents were held by juvenile authorities today after neighbors reported two of them were begging for food or money.

The hungry youngsters apparently had been living on leftover food since Tuesday when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mayner, left after a quarrel. They took two other children with them.

Police said Mary Ann, 10, and Pearl Mae, 8, were begging from door to door. Officers found three others, Mike, 6, Lawy, 4, and Bobby Joe, 2, at the home at 4110 W. Penrose St.

In the house were three cans of beans.

Police said Mrs. Mayner left the home Tuesday after quarreling with her husband Mayner took two boys, Henry, 11 and Billy Joe, 3, to search for her, officers were told. They have not been seen since.

20th Child Born To Couple

ISOLA, Miss. (AP) — Twenty children is an unusual number for one couple. But in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Rubel Burleson, there's something even more unusual.

Mrs. Burleson, 41, who gave birth to the 20th child Monday night—has RH-negative blood.

"The percentage rate of deaths among male infants born to a mother with RH-negative blood is very high," said her physician, Dr. Sam Sugg. But the Burlesons have never lost a child.

"In fact," the doctor said, "the delivery is the last time most of these children ever see a doctor because they are all so healthy."

The father, 52, is a sharecropper and at present is supporting 18 of his offspring. The other two are grown and live near the farm where he works.

The last child? He's a 9-pound, 6-ounce named Tommy, and the picture of health.

Stratton Appoints Metropolis Man to Conservation Board

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Gov. Stratton's office Wednesday announced appointment of Ray Mittendorf, 45, Metropolis, to the advisory board to the Conservation Department.

Mittendorf, who heads the Shawnee Hills Recreation Assn., will complete the term of Ray Hunter, Chicago, who resigned. The term will expire in January, 1963.

The advisory board is headed by Charles G. Sauters, River Forest.

Mother of Six Killed by Bullet; Question Boy

SPARLAND, Ill. (AP) — Authorities today planned to retrace the movements of a teen-age boy who they said admitted he was target shooting near where a mother of six children was slain with a rifle bullet.

Marshall County State's Atty. O. B. Pace said an attempt would be made to determine the location of Larry Vanda, 14, at the time of Wednesday's shooting. The victim, Mrs. Helen Baggs, 32, was struck in the head by a .22 caliber rifle bullet as she hung out wash at the rear of her home.

Vanda has admitted firing the shot while target practicing in a swamp across the road from the Baggs home, authorities said. They hoped to determine the spot from which the shot was fired to establish whether Vanda fired at the woman deliberately or otherwise.

Authorities said Vanda climbed through an unlocked window of a sporting goods store at nearby Lincoln Tuesday night and secured the rifle and an archery set. He stayed overnight in an abandoned house before starting out on his target practicing expedition.

The youth was held without charge pending completion of the investigation.

18 Escape Fire In Freeman Mine Number 4

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (AP) — Eighteen coal miners escaped without injury when fire broke out below in the Freeman No. 4 mine southeast of here this morning.

The fire, of unknown origin, was brought under control quickly by day shift workers who discovered it when they entered the mine about 7 a. m. A 100-foot section of conveyor belt was destroyed in the fire.

Mine Supt. Van Austin said that 18 men were in the mine when the blaze broke out a distance of about four city blocks from the entrance to the slope mine.

The mine was idled after the fire but production will be resumed this afternoon at 2 p. m. at the start of the second shift, Austin said.

The mine was sunk in 1952 and work three shifts. About 100 men work on the day shift.

Half Million Dollar Suit Charges Theft Of Wife's Love

CHICAGO (AP) — A pediatrician today faced a half-million dollar suit from another doctor charging him with stealing his wife's love.

The plaintiff, Dr. Lester D. Odell, 47, also has filed a divorce suit against his pregnant wife, Elaine, 35, for alleged adultery with Dr. Emerson K. McVey, 46. McVey is the son of Congressman William E. McVey (R-Ill.).

O'Dell's $490,000 suit, filed Wednesday in Superior Court, charged that he had been locked out of his home ever since his wife filed for separate maintenance last September. He denies parentage of the child expected this month.

At an earlier hearing Superior Court Judge Thaddeus V. Adesko ordered blood tests for Odell, his wife, and the child to determine parentage.

Mrs. Odell is now receiving $185 a week temporary support from Odell whom she charged with desertion and cruelty.

McVey's wife, Harriet Marie, meanwhile has filed notice of suit for divorce.

Dinah Shore, Bob Hope Receive Peabody TV Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—Dinah Shore, Bob Hope, and Captain Kangaroo shared individual honors today when the annual George Foster Peabody awards for excellence in radio and television broadcasting were made.

Miss Shore's NBC-TV show was named the best musical entertainment on television, with a special citation for "unfailing good taste, irrepressible spirits and sheer talent." The citation added, "What TV needs, obviously, is about a hundred more Dinah Shores."

Comedian Hope, recently back from Russia, took the Peabody award for an outstanding contribution to international understanding. He was called the "wise-cracking, ever-cheerful symbol of an abundant and good-natured land."

Captain Kangaroo (Bob Keeshan in real life) was cited as "virtually the only genuine children's program left on network television—certainly the only one which puts the welfare of the children ahead of that of the sponsor."

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

One thing motorists must be on the alert to avoid while driving on flat, long and seemingly safe stretches of highway is monotony or "highway hypnosis." Some drivers become oblivious to danger when traveling at a fixed speed over many miles of straight road.

There are a number of aids you may use in avoiding this highway danger. Do not indulge in heavy, sleep inducing meals and do not oversmoke. Loose, comfortable clothes will also help.

Do not stay on the road too long a period. Alternate behind the wheel with another driver, or pull off to the side of the road, or pull into a roadside restaurant for a light stimulating beverage.

If your vehicle has a radio, listen to stimulating music. If you have someone else traveling with you, carry on a conversation.

8th Annual Area School Press Ass'n Conference April 12

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Some 300 school newspaper and yearbook editors and advisers are expected to attend the eighth annual Southern Illinois School Press Association Conference April 12 at Southern Illinois University.

Keynote speaker will be Laurence R. Campbell, dean of the Florida State University School of Journalism. Campbell, co-author of four books on journalism and editor of "Careers in Journalism," will lead two conference sessions and speak at a luncheon at the University Cafeteria.

"Interpreting the School Through Student Publications" is the theme for this year's meeting, which will feature 18 discussion sessions on every phase of school newspaper and yearbook operation. Advisers and SIU journalism teachers will be consultants.

Registration will begin at 8 a. m. at University School. At 9:30, Dr. James L. C. Ford, acting chairman of the SIU Department of Journalism, will open the first session. Entertainment will be provided by Southern's 60-voice Air Force ROTC Singing Squadron.

Winners in the Association's Best Story Contest will be announced at 3 p. m. awards ceremony. Also, an outstanding newspaper adviser and a yearbook adviser will be singled out for honors.

Dr. Donald R. Grubb, SIU assistant professor of journalism, is conference director.

Former State Representative Dies

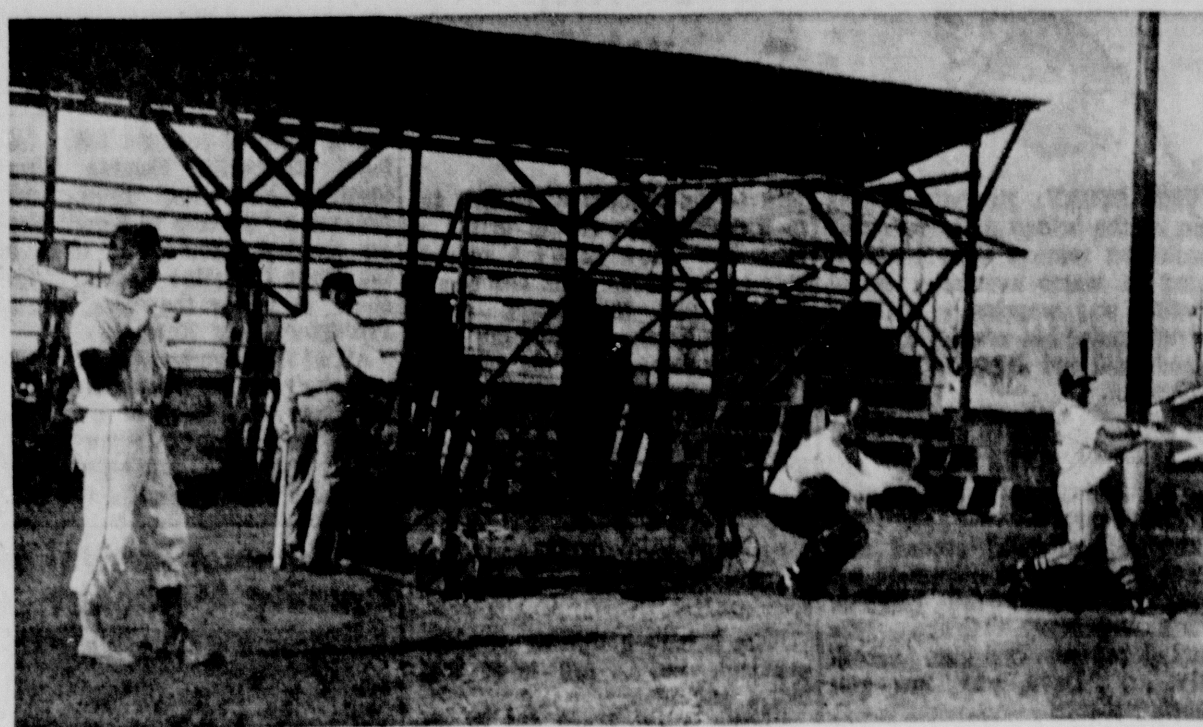

LITCHFIELD, Ill. (AP)—David Davis, 89, four times mayor of Litchfield and a former Republican state representative, died Wednesday.

Davis, whose father also served as mayor of Litchfield for three terms, died at St. Francis Hospital here after a brief illness.

He was chairman of the state Spanish-American War Veterans commission and the first state commander of the United Spanish War Veterans. Davis commanded Company K of the 4th Illinois Volunteer Infantry in Cuba in 1898.

He was first elected mayor of Litchfield in 1913 and was elected in 1920 for one term in the state House of Representatives. Davis was a lifelong resident of Litchfield.

Land area of the Territory of Hawaii is 6,407 square miles.

BATTER UP!—Preparing for a full schedule of games during the coming baseball season candidates for the Harrisburg high school team have been working out whenever possible on the VFW Memorial diamond. Coach John Dotson, standing at batter's cage where he can closely watch the hitters, expressed satisfaction with the prospects for a good season. The Bull Dogs open the baseball season at Golconda Tuesday, meeting the Pope County team, then play at home Wednesday and Thursday and will be at Galatia Friday. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Ken Venturi Favored as Masters Golf Tournament Gets Underway

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The 22nd Masters golf tournament, with the younger professionals stealing the favorite's role from the old timers, was set to start today with a reduced field of 87 golfers.

The entry list was 14 less than the 101 that teed off the first day last year despite the largest foreign representation in Masters history. The most talked about—and watched—foreign players were the Japanese twosome of Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono.

The Augusta National Golf course, laid out by Bobby Jones and the scene of all Masters tournaments which began in 1934, was expected to be considerably faster today than it was for practice rounds the past four days.

Heavy rains last week had the course soggy and slow, but recent temperatures in the high 70s dried the greens and fairways. Daily mowings were expected to make the greens even faster.

Venturi Favorite
Ken Venturi of San Francisco, the 27-year-old star picked by veteran Sam Snead and others as the favorite this year, toured the rolling, 6,850 yard layout Tuesday in a five-under-par 67. He played nine holes Wednesday but said he kept no score.

Bantam Ben Hogan, holder of the Masters tournament record of 274, which is 14 strokes better than par, tuned up by playing the back nine Wednesday. His score was a one over par 37.

Perhaps the best practice round was turned in by another "youngster," 28-year-old Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, who reported a two-under-par 70.

Mike Souchak of Durham, N. C., the former Duke University football end, turned in a 71 Wednesday, as did Jackie Burke of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., the "back door" champion of 1956 who slipped in when Venturi—then an amateur—collapsed on the last nine holes.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who holds the Masters course record of 64, but never has won the tournament, had an even par 72 in practice Wednesday, the same score posted by Snead.

Devore Named Irish Freshman Football Coach

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Hugh J. Devore Jr., one-time head football coach at Notre Dame and of the Philadelphia Eagles, has returned to the campus of the Fighting Irish as freshman football coach.

Devore's appointment was announced Wednesday by Coach Terry Brennan, who said he had been seeking a suitable man for the freshman post for the past two years.

"In every respect," Brennan said, "I feel that Hugh Devore is the best man for the job."

Devore, a Notre Dame alumnus who also served the Irish as team captain and assistant coach, was head coach of the school's gridiron squad during the 1945 season when the Irish posted a record of seven wins, two losses and a tie. But when Frank Leahy returned from service in 1946, Devore became head coach at St. Bonaventure, where he remained until 1949.

Devore, of East Orange, N. J., joined the Eagles in 1956 after serving in several capacities with New York universities, the Green Bay Packers and the University of Dayton.

After playing as an end for Notre Dame in 1931-1933, Devore stepped into coaching ranks in 1934 as an assistant freshman coach.

Bobby Thomson Goes to Cubs

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today traded off outfielder Bobby Thomson to the San Francisco Giants in return for outfielder Bobby Thomson.

Cubs Manager Bob Sheffing said acquisition of the veteran of a dozen years in the major league will "give us the right-handed hitting outfielder" the Chicago club long has needed. Thomson also was expected to give added protection at third base, Sheffing said.

The deal, which involved an undisclosed sum of money, puts Thomson in a Cub uniform against his teammates of one day ago. The Cubs and the Giants are meeting today in a windup exhibition game.

Whether Thomson would stay in center field was uncertain.

Sheffing said depending on the competition he gets from Chuck Tanner who moved to left. Thomson has a lifetime average of .270 and hit .240 last year.

All-Stars Beat Globetrotters

DETROIT (AP)—Temple's Guy Rodgers has the College All-Americans hoping for their second victory in a row tonight when they meet the Harlem Globetrotters at Chicago in the seventh game of their cross-country basketball tournament.

The All-Americans had dropped five straight when Rodgers pulled them together in the fourth quarter here Wednesday night and led them to a 75-66 triumph.

Famous For Quality

LEAD WITH YOUR LEFT

by ED LACY

THE STORY: Everything goes fine at the bridge party until the gentlemen remove their coats, it being a warm evening. David Wintino was wearing a shoulder holster under his coat. His wife's friends did not know he was a policeman.

XIII

Mary looked as if she wanted to disappear.

They all crowded around me.
I was the center of attraction for everybody except the sleeping drunk and Mary. Grace Tills pointed toward my gun, asked,
"Mr. ... Dave, why are you wearing that?"

"A cop is supposed to be armed at all times, off duty and on."

"Certainly the last thing you look like is a policeman," a man said.

Mary's face was back to normal color but her mouth was still a tight line. "Dave is the youngest detective on the force.
He made a very important arrest a few months ago—you remember that psychopath who had killed several women with a piece of pipe? Dave arrested him and was made a detective." She probably felt better now that I was the center of things.

The girl who had wanted to see my badge asked, "Tell us the truth, is there really much thirddegreeing?"

I dropped my cards and shrugged. "I've seen very little of it. But then I haven't been on the force long. There's over 20, 000 men on the force. I suppose there must be more than a few knuckle-happy cops. And sometimes it can't be helped."

"How about corruption?" another guy asked me.

"Let me put it this way: in the short time I've been a working police officer, I haven't even been offered a free sandwich.
And if I had I wouldn't have taken it. There must be some people in the advertising office who are always looking for free theater tickets or a bottle. That doesn't make the whole agency corrupt. Most of the cops I know have a job to do, protecting society, and they try to do it best they can."

"Are you really protecting society?" Don asked.

"This afternoon I picked up a jerk in the process of busting into a parked car, trying to lift a coat. The fellow hasn't a record, he's out of work. The car was a Jaguar and the owner could probably afford to lose the coat and the damage to his window.

But I can't worry about the social angles. A cop can't be judge and jury. Maybe this punk was hungry enough to justify robbery but that isn't for me to decide."

"A PHILOSOPHICAL cop," one of the men said. "Wonder of wonders."

"No, it isn't a wonder or philosophical, but a job with long hours and—"

"Little pay," Mary cut in bitterly.

"And big risks," I said. "If your boss suddenly told you to go out and clean the office windows you'd refuse because you'd be risking your life. Yet for less salary than you're making I'm expected to face guns, knives and fists every day. But even if the pay was good it wouldn't make it a good job because secretly most people hate cops."

"Exactly," the girl with the big eyes said. "Because you do society's dirty work."

"Easy, Janice," Grace Tills cut in. "or you'll fall off your soap-box."

"No, no," Janice said eagerly.
"I'm only trying to show him the reality of the situation is that police aren't the answer but—"

"The reality of the situation is," I cut in, "that there's a homicide every 40 minutes in the U. S. A., a rape every half-hour, an assault every six minutes, and some form of larceny every 26 seconds, and when you're the victim you'll be yelling for the police!"

Grace Tills put her fingers in her mouth and whistled. She could whistle real good. She held up her hands. "I think it's time we took Dave off the witness stand. Cards, anybody?"

"Almost it," a girl who hadn't said anything before said. "Let's stick to drinking. We have to be home by midnight or our Cinderella baby-sitter will sack us.
Put the TV on again, there's a soap jingle due on which I hear is sensational."

The TV screen was filled with film shots of the day's news—another conference in Europe, a factory fire, the President playing golf, then a picture of a small room and uniformed cops carrying out a body. I caught one word over the noises in the room. I shouted, "Shut up! ... please."

The smooth voice of the commentator was saying, "... and in this dingy room his landlady found Wales' body when he failed to answer her repeated knocks. Police say the retired detective was killed around noon although the landlady didn't discover the body until late this afternoon. One puzzling aspect of the case was a large amount of cash in the dead man's money belt which was untouched. Now, after a word from my sponsor."

As I put my coat on I told Mary, "I have to get back to the precinct house. Want me to take you home first?"

"Don't worry about me! I'll go home when I'm ready!" she snapped.

"Babes, I have to—" Don said, "Aren't you being rather melodramatic, Dave old man? Hear about a murder on TV and go dashing out into the night. You really have to go?"

"Melodramatic?" I repeated.
"This isn't any play. Wales' partner was killed yesterday and I was on the case. Good night everybody."

Bradley Warns Ike of Political Retaliation for Veto

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Illinois
Farmers Union President Ralph
Bradley today warned President Eisenhower there may be political retaliation to his veto of the farm price support freeze bill.

In a letter to the President, Bradley said "I'm asking every county Farmers Union organization in the state to call an immediate protest meeting to discuss this action ... which in effect permits Mr. Benson to again get out his 'ma-k down' book and cut prices to below cost of production levels."

"I can only hope that these protest meetings will include a discussion of what kind of political action" is needed to restore the "already lost 130 million dollars in income to the Illinois farmers as a result of your policies, and to protect them ... in the future," Bradley wrote.

The letter to Eisenhower also charged that the veto "shattered the hopes of many thousands of farm families who wished to remain in agriculture."

He said the veto was "characteristic of your attitude and policies toward the farm program.
Since you took office more than five million people have found it necessary to leave the farm."
